Good morning. Apologies for yet another email about property taxes. Hopefully, you understand that these emails are intended to inform and assist with our efforts to advocate for balanced property tax relief that doesn't impede municipal service delivery or negatively impact the local ability to grow and enhance the quality of life in our communities.

Like Aim, you have probably encountered some difficulty explaining Indiana's complex property tax system to your citizens and community leaders. To assist in these efforts, we have produced this animated video to condense our explanation of the system and what happened in recent years to cause certain property tax bills to increase. This video represents one more tool in our expanding toolbox. We hope you will share it during public meetings to provide a foundation for future property tax discussions.

As always, please reach out to me or any member of the Aim team if you have any questions.

Matt
